Celebrating a new season and a new sponsor in local company Air Products, South Cheshire Premier Netball League will be hosting an official launch event on Wednesday, 12th September at 7pm.

The Mayor of Crewe and Nantwich Borough Council, Cllr Maurice Jones, Local Councillor Bill McGinnis and representative's from the Council's Leisure Services, Andrew Chandler and Keith Pickton will all attend the event. An exhibition will form the highlight of the evening with England Netball representatives and team captains from previous netball leagues cheering from the sidelines. Air Products representatives will also show their support from the sidelines.

League co-ordinator and Duty Manager, Andrew Chandler commented, "We are looking forward to the new season ahead. It looks to be a promising league and we're really pleased that a local company such as Air Products is providing valuable support."

Air Products, Crewe representative, Bruce Alexander, comments,

"Air Products consider Health, Fitness and Wellness as a key aspect to the Air Products organisation. Netball is a great sport for promoting character building as well as physical well-being and fitness. We're really proud to be involved in the league and wish the team the best of luck for the season ahead."

More league matches are scheduled to play later this month, to find out more visits <http://www.cheshirenetball.co.uk>.

About South Cheshire Premier Netball League

Coppenhall Leisure Centre forms part of the Crewe & Nantwich Borough Council managed leisure service. Established in 1978, the centre has a longstanding reputation for providing a high quality leisure service to the Borough including its very popular sports leagues.
